A. SIGNIFICANT ITEMS

None to report.

B. OTHER ACTIVITIES

1. The Inter-Agency Roundtable meeting held at the Institute of Far Eastern Languages, Yale University, was one of the best meetings we have had. Notably impressive was the work of the Institute, particularly the presence of eighty-five (85) classes in Chinese. I also was much impressed by the progress of various groups in relation to the periods they had been in training. Moreover, the calibre of individual appeared to be high, much more alert than other Air Force groups I have seen. Some of these men I am sure, would make good JOT or regular recruits when they separate from active duty. (CIA will host and chair the next meeting at [REDACTED] in October).

2. [REDACTED] have received advanced reading lists from the Institute on Overseas Operations and are preparing in advance for the three-week seminar at Syracuse beginning 9 August.

3. A Mrs. Pauline Moore of the Department of Agriculture has inquired about language training opportunities for agriculture attachés.

4. Through the medium of the Roundtable we are arranging for tuition-free training for two persons in Egyptian Arabic, one in Moroccan Arabic and one in Japanese. Others to be arranged later.
